OF THE

Secretary of Internal Affairs

OF THE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 30, 1899.

PART I—LAND OFFICE.
BOUNDARY LINES.
PART II—ASSESSMENTS.
TAXES.

WM. STANLEY RAY, STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA. 1900.

REPORT

OF THE

Secretary of Internal Affairs.

COMMUNICATION.

Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, January 25, 1900.

To His Excellency, William A. Stone,

Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Sir: Complying with the requirements of the Constitution, I have the honor to present you herewith for transmission to the General Assembly, the general report of this Department for the year ending November 30, 1899, as follows:

Part I, Land Office. Boundary lines.

Part II, Assessments. Taxes.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
JAMES W. LATTA,

Secretary of Internal Affairs.

(1A)

ORGANIZATION OF DEPARTMENT.

The Department of Internal Affairs, as organized, consists of five bureaus, designated as follows:

- 1. Land Office and Boundary Line Monuments, 11 employes.
- 2. Assessments and Taxes, 3 employes.
- 3. Industrial Statistics, 6 employes.
- 4. Railroads, Canals, Telegraphs and Telephones, 3 employes.
- 5. Mines, 4 employes.

A record of the business of the Department is published in five parts:

Parts I and II, Land Office, Boundary Lines, Assessments and Taxes.

Part III. Industrial Statistics.

Part IV. Railroads, Canals, Telegraphs and Telephones.

Part V. Bureau of Mines.

Office hours, 9 A. M. to 4.30 P. M. Saturdays, 9 A. M. to 11 A. M.

The term of office of all clerks and employes expires with the term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The laws of the Commonwealth require that a General Report of the Department of Internal Affairs shall be made for the fiscal year ending June 30. This report refers but briefly to the affairs of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics, the Bureau of Railways and the Bureau of Mines for the reason that each of these Bureaus prepares and publishes a separate report. The General Report deals somewhat at length with the Land Office Bureau and the Bureau of Assessments and Taxes. Every Bureau of the Department shows a remarkable increase in the amount of work done during the year. A résumé of the work given in this report will show quite clearly the different classes of work upon which the employes of the Department are engaged. They have all been kept constantly employed, and the results of their work for the year reflect great credit upon them. The law does not provide for any fees in connection with the office work, except in the Land Office Bureau and, hence, the receipts are exceedingly small in comparison to the work done. A comparison of the work during the year with any preceding year since the establishment of the Department under the new Constitution will show a most decided increase. New duties by legislative enactment have been imposed upon the Department, and the powers heretofore existing and the duties discharged with reference to the different branches of the Department, which were authorized at the time the Department was created, have been greatly broadened. The correspondence of the Department is at present tentimes as great as it was ten years ago, and three stenographers are kept constantly employed. It is the aim of the Department to provide the public with information and in every way to serve the interests of those who are concerned in the business coming under its control.

An examination of the detailed work in the General Report, which embraces statistics on taxes and assessments, and in the Reports of the Bureau of Railways, Bureau of Industrial Statistics and Bureau of Mines, will give some idea of the enormous amount of work necessary to conduct the official business of the Department.

All reports of the Department are prepared with care in the hope that they will conserve the public interests in all that pertains to the several branches of the State Government over which the Department has control.

BUREAU OF RAILWAYS.

This branch of the Department has immediate charge of the annual reports made by steam railway, street railway, telephone, telegraph and canal corporations. Under existing laws these corporations make annual reports for the fiscal year ending June 30, and the requirement is imperative that they shall make a return of the total amount of receipts from operations, the expenditures and the dividends paid. In the case of the steam railways the details given as to construction of road, equipment, maintenance and operation are very comprehensive and afford the public, in the most concise way, information as to the financial affairs of these corporations. The blanks on which the steam railways make their reports embrace upwards of a thousand questions. The blanks for the street railways are not quite so comprehensive, and yet they are sufficiently so to enable the stockholders or other persons interested to determine very readily the condition of the affairs of the corporations with reference to the receipts and expenditures. Similar blanks are provided for the telegraph and telephone companies. There are very few telegraph companies in the State, but the increase in the number of telephone companies within the last two or three years has been very marked. The reports received from the canal companies show the tonnage and receipts and expenditures, but there is little interest manifested by the people in the few corporations of this kind still in existence. The transportation of commodities is now so largely with the railways that the canals are scarcely a factor in the commercial world.

The annual report of the Bureau of Railways for the year ending June 30, 1899, is particularly attractive by reason of containing a complete history, with illustrations, of the old Portage road, which extended from Hollidaysburg over the Allegheny mountains, connecting the two canals which were constructed from the west to the western slope of the mountains and from the east to the eastern slope. This old road was at one time a great factor in the transportation of commerce from the east to the west, and also for the transportation of the iron produced at Pittsburgh for the eastern markets. It is now entirely a thing of the past, but traces of it can yet be seen across the mountains. Its influence, however, in the development of transportation facilities, not only in this State but in other States, was so important that it seems fitting that its history should be given a prominent place in the published reports of the State of Pennsylvania.

The report of this Bureau is designated Part IV of the Department Reports.

BUREAU OF INDUSTRIAL STATISTICS.

For a number of years efforts have been made by this Bureau to obtain complete returns from the manufacturing establishments of the State, particularly those engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel, giving the total volume of product and the number of persons employed. For the year covered by this report this plan has been pursued with very satisfactory results, and a closer approach to complete returns from all the manufacturing interests of the State has been obtained than ever before. At first it seemed like a difficult task to induce the managers of manufacturing establishments to make these annual returns, but during the last two or three years there has been less opposition shown, and in many cases the plan of the Bureau has been looked upon with favor. The duties imposed upon this Bureau with reference to the industrial interests of the State and the welfare of the laboring classes are of constitutional as well as legislative requirement.

The report of this Bureau is designated Part III of the Department Reports.

Reports, Etc., Received and Distributed.

2,300 annual reports distributed.

1,663 reports received from corporations and compiled.

4,200 blank reports sent to corporations.

BUREAU OF MINES.

For a number of years the State has had supervision over the conduct of the mining operations in both the anthracite and bituminous coal regions. Mine inspectors have been appointed, clothed with power to enforce such regulations as the law provides for the safety of those engaged in working the mines. The annual reports of these inspectors were formerly made to the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Department and published in the report of that Bureau. There was no direct supervision over the inspectors, however, until the passage of the act of 1897, which provided for the appointment of a Chief of the Bureau of Mines, who should have immediate charge of the inspectors with reference to the discharge of the duties imposed upon them by law. The object of the law seems to have been to secure a closer scrutiny of those appointed under the law to exercise supervision over the work of mining, so that in case of the failure to perform the full duty on the part of any inspector such official dereliction might not be allowed to pass unheeded.

Possibly there has been some improvement in the way of freedom from accidents among the employes of the mines since the Chief of the Bureau of Mines has had supervision over the work of the inspectors, although the act has not been in force long enough to thoroughly test its merits.

The report of this Bureau is designated Part V of the Department Reports.

PART I--Land Office.

Boundary Lines.

LAND OFFICE BUREAU.

In the resume of the work of the office given in the general consolidated statement will be found a detailed account of the work for the year covered by this report, ending November 30, 1899. A comparison of the work done during the year with that of previous years, since the organization of this Bureau under the new Constitution, shows a decided increase with reference to the copying of original records, particularly of applications, warrants, surveys and patents.

In the southwestern portion of the State the development of coal lands and the forming of syndicates for the purchase of large tracts of land underlaid with coal have resulted in numerous requests for copies of original papers. This is especially true of the counties of Greene, Westmoreland, Washington, Fayette and Indiana. A wonderful increase of the manufacturing interests in this State, as disclosed by other reports issued from this office, has enhanced the price of coal and, of course, the price of coal lands. The returns of the railway companies made to the Bureau of Railways of this Department show the largest shipment of coal, both anthracite and bituminous, ever known in the history of the Commonwealth. In the purchase of these undeveloped coal lands it seems that the purchasers have been particularly anxious to obtain briefs that would show a continuous chain of title from the Commonwealth down to the present owners of the lands. In many cases, in the preparation of briefs of title, it has been found that the original titles had never been completed by the granting of patents, and this has necessitated the filing of applications by the present owners, in order that the titles may be made complete. All these things have greatly augmented the work of the Land Office Bureau, but notwithstanding the extra labor involved, it has been found possible to continue the copying of the mutilated papers on file in the Bureau, thus insuring to some extent the preservation of this valuable information for future reference.

Board of Property.

During the year covered by this report the Board of Property has held very few sessions, although some important cases have been passed upon. The Board consists of the Attorney General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Secretary of Internal Affairs. At one time the Board was a very important tribunal, for the reason that in all contests regarding the right to acquire title of the Commonwealth to vacant lands within its limits, the Board was called upon, and was authorized by law, to settle such disputes, subject, of course, to the supervision of the courts of the Commonwealth.

Now that the public domain has been substantially disposed of there are, of course, fewer applications filed for vacant land. It is generally supposed by those who are not conversant with the condition of the records of this Department that it is possible to ascertain here what vacant lands are still owned by the Commonwealth and subject to warrant and survey. This is an erroneous supposition, as there seems to have been no system that controlled either the proprietaries or the proper officers after the formation of the State, regulating the survey of lands after application had been made and warrants granted authorizing the surveys. Earlier in the history of the Commonwealth, when a large portion of the land was of little value, applications were made for desirable locations only, and the surveyors when executing the warrants were guided in establishing the boundaries of the warrants by the caprice or desire of the warrantee. Valuable bottom lands were thus acquired and lines run along valleys in such a manner as to exclude the hills or mountains which were then deemed valueless. As the lands of the Commonwealth became more valuable applications were made for the lands adjoining tracts already surveyed, and in many instances the surveyor, in executing junior warrants, found it difficult to make them adjoin the senior warrants and in this way vacant strips of land were left between different warrants.

In the disposition of lands in the northwestern portions of the State some regularity was observed in the surveying of warrants, particularly those acquired by the Holland Land Company and other large purchasers of the public domain. When these surveyors had executed their warrants they made returns to the Land Office which are recognized as the basis of title and the limitation of the rights of the warrantee. No connected draft of lands was filed in the office of the Surveyor General, and returns were made only of such tracts as were separately surveyed. This is true of nearly all the lands of the State, except of some lands that are now within the limits of the counties of Erie, Warren, Forest, Venango, Elk, Jefferson, McKean, Potter, Tioga and Cameron. When the land within these counties was surveyed it was divided into districts, and a large number of warrants was placed in the hands of the deputies assigned to these districts. In some cases plots were made of the lands surveyed, but in none of the returns, either on separate warrants or where plots were made, was any information given that would enable the Land Office to determine definitely as to what lands were still left vacant. This has certainly been the case for the last twenty-five or fifty years, but notwithstanding this condition, frequent inquiries are still made as to the location of lands owned by the State and still subject to warrant and survey. As a result of the methods that had been in practice, surveyors, in running the original lines of warrants, frequently discover strips of vacant land and applications are then made for warrants to have these strips surveyed and patented. The controversies that arise as to the location of original lines, anticipating interference from these modern applications, are the usual source of the cases brought before the Board of Property for determination.

When an application is filed, the act of 1874 requires the payment of the purchase money and warrant fee, and the publication, for three successive weeks, of the intention to make such application, giving with accuracy the location of the land applied for. The publication is to be made in a paper published nearest the location of the alleged vacant land. When proof of publication is filed no further action is taken until thirty days after the last publication, when the warrant becomes issuable. If, however, in the meantime a caveat is filed by anyone against the granting of the warrant, all proceedings are stayed, and the Secretary of Internal Affairs has no further power to act. Upon the issuance of a citation by either the applicant or the caveator the case can be put to issue before the Board of Property. In the consideration of such cases the contestants have a right to appear for themselves or by attorneys and present testimony taken on commission or to present their witnesses and have the testimony taken orally. This indicates the manner in which cases are brought before the Board for its consideration.

A majority of the cases considered during the year resulted from the passage of the act of 1897, which authorizes the granting of warrants for strips of land along navigable rivers. Allegheny county has been prolific of cases of this kind. A number of cases has also been brought to issue before the Board as a result of applications made for what is known as the back channel of the Allegheny river, between the mainland and what was at one time known as Wainwright's island. A number of years ago it seems that Wainwright's Island ceased to be an island by the stopping of the flow of water between it and the mainland. This resulted, apparently, both from artificial means and from the cutting down of the channel to a lower depth on the opposite side of the island. As a result of this change of natural conditions an application was made under the general land laws of the State for a warrant and patent for the land which had formerly been the channel of the river. In pursuance of this application a warrant and patent were granted, but in subsequent proceedings in ejectment the right of the Surveyor General to grant a warrant and patent in such a case was questioned and the Supreme Court decided that the general laws authorizing the granting of warrants and patents did not give the Surveyor General the right to convey to any person any portion of what had been the channel of the Allegheny river. This decision of the Supreme Court rendered a nullity the warrant and patent that had been granted.

In 1870 an act was passed by the Legislature conveying to the city of Pittsburgh the title to this portion of the channel of the river out to what had once been Wainwright's Island. There seems to be some limitation to the title thus conveyed, for the act provided that the land should be used for street purposes by the city of Pittsburgh. The applicants for warrants for this portion of the channel of the river ignore the act of 1870 in their applications, assuming that the city of Pittsburgh had a right only to acquire title to the land through the construction and maintenance of streets, as provided by the act of the Legislature. In several applications made under the act of 1897 for portions of the channel of the river the Board decided that the act of 1870 conveyed the absolute title to the city of Pittsburgh and, therefore, the Secretary of Internal Affairs had no right to grant warrants under the act of 1897. An effort was then made to have the Board reconsider its action, and these cases, together with others resulting from more recent applications, are still pending before the Board. The prominent question to be determined by the Board is, What is vacant land or unappropriated land? It is assumed, of course, that all the territory within the limits of the State was either owned by the proprietaries under the charter given to William Penn, or was subsequently acquired and owned by the Commonwealth, and under the law authority was given under certain restrictions to grant title to the vacant or unappropriated lands so acquired. If vacant or unappropriated land means only such lands as have never been disposed of by the proprietaries, by the Commonwealth under general laws, or by special enactments of the Legislature, then it can hardly be claimed that the land in question, which at one time formed a part of the channel of the Allegheny river, is now subject to warrant and survey, without at least some specific direction by the law-making power of the State.

Where the State parts with title to land under the vacant or unappropriated land law, by receiving an application, granting a warrant, accepting the survey and issuing the patent, all the title the Commonwealth had is thereby given to its grantee, and the land from that time can never again be considered as vacant or unappropriated land within the meaning of the general laws of the Commonwealth. If the State should ever need, for any purpose, the land thus granted and should again acquire title to it either by purchase or by exercise of its right of eminent domain, it could not be assumed that the Land Offi could again convey title to it, under an application for a warrant, or patent, as vacant land. For unless this position were true, it could not be denied that the Secretary of Internal Affairs in the discharge of his official duties would have a right to grant a warrant and a patent for the whole or any portion of the tract of land now owned by the State and utilized as the location of the capitol or seat of government at Harrisburg. So with other tracts of land from which the State parted with title under the law authorizing the granting of warrants for vacant or unappropriated lands which are now owned by the State and used for public institutions.

Applying this theory to the applications made for portions of the channel of the Allegheny river, it cannot be assumed that the State has a right now to grant title under these applications, if there was an actual conveyance to the city of Pittsburgh of this land under the provisions of the act of 1872. The real question, therefore, for the Board to determine is the character of the title, if any, that was given to the city of Pittsburgh. If it is found that there was really an appropriation of this land and a conveyance of the title to the city, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Board of Property would have no more right to grant warrants and patents under the applications in question than they would have to grant warrants and patents for lands entirely beyond the limits of the Commonwealth. In other words, if there is no vacant or unappropriated land, within the meaning of the act of 1874 and prior legislation, the applications referred to must fall. The question will command the best and most careful thought of the Board in the determination of the points at issue.

So far the act of 1897 referred to above has not been prolific of good results. On the contrary, it has created more disturbance than any other similar act passed in recent years. There are several other cases pending before the Board that involve similar questions to those raised in the Allegheny county cases. It is claimed by some persons that the act of 1897 seriously affects, or was designed to affect, the riparian rights of land owners. An original warrant, as indicated by the return of survey, located along any of the navigable streams of the Commonwealth, or such as have been declared public highways, usually calls for such a stream or river as a boundary. In some cases affecting the rights of owners of property so surveyed, the Supreme Court has held that the owner of land along such streams has an absolute ownership to high water mark, and a constructive or limited ownership to low water mark. The law is pretty well established that such owner has a right and title to all accretions that may form along the land owned by him. If this is the law of the Commonwealth, the owners of such property must have acquired vested rights to low water mark which subsequent legislation could scarcely take away without injury to them. The efficacy, therefore, of the act of 1897, authorizing the taking up of strips of land along navigable streams is seriously questioned.

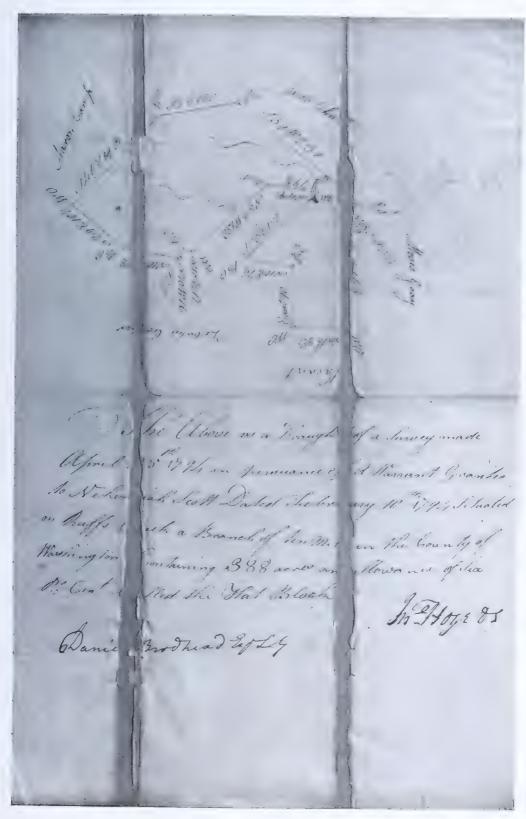

Adjacent to the town of Beaver, in Beaver county, an application has been made for several acres of land between the street on the river front and the river. This application will also have to be disposed of by the Board of Property, and in its disposition the riparian rights of the owners of abutting property will have to be considered. The original return of survey of the 500-acre tract of land given by the State to the Beaver Academy calls for the river as a boundary, and the caveators in the case referred to claim that there could be no vacant land between the abutting land owners and the river, and that their ownership goes even to the low water mark, subject, however, to the right of the public to use the channel of the river from high water mark to low water mark as a public thoroughfare.

The policy of the act of 1897 is a questionable one, but beyond this it is extremely faulty in the ambiguity of its phraseology. It is doubtful if a more imperfect act, or one clothed in more uncertain language can be found on our statute books.

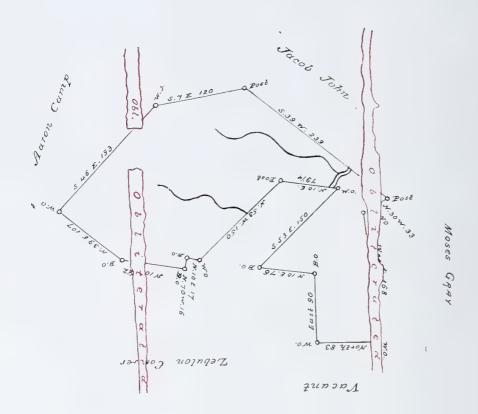

As an instance of some of the cases that are brought to the attention of the Board of Property may be cited one that recently arose and still remains undetermined, in which two applications for the same tract of land were received in the Department on the same day. It seems to have been the practice of the department to give precedence to the first application, as between different dates, but so far as can be ascertained from the records there has never been any division of the day with reference to the filing of applications, and in cases where there is a difference in the hour as to filing of applications the Board has yet to establish a rule.

Copying of Records.

A commendable advance has been made during the year in the copying of the old records, particularly of surveys, as authorized by the act of 1833. For more than fifty years the Surveyor General, and his successor in office—the Secretary of Internal Affairs—have annually called the attention of the Legislature to this important and most necessary work, but their recommendations received but little consideration until within the last five or six years, when additional clerks were given to this Department for the furtherance of this work. The result has been that many thousands of the surveys have already been copied. The plan adopted by the Department has been to take the papers that show the greatest mutilation as the first to be copied. The papers are reproduced exactly as they are found in the originals, except as to style of penmanship. Errors in orthography, and other mistakes of any kind, are reproduced in the copies. Misspelled words are underscored in the copies with red ink, as are the mistakes in phraseology. Apparent errors in calls for adjoiners are also indicated in this way. In order to give a clear explanation of the rule that prevails in the copying of these records photographs have been made of an original survey and of the copy as made. These photographs appear in this report.

HAND COPY OF ORIGINAL DRAFT

On file in the Department of Internal Affairs, showing Mutilations and Parts Missing in Red Ink, as Required by Law and Rules of the Department.

Very little work has been done in the way of copying original papers of the than surveys. The surveys are considered of the most importance as they form the basis and establish the limits of the rights of the original applicants or warrantees. When the surveys are copied the originals and the copies are compared by two experienced compare clerks and the copies are then certified under the hand of the Secretary of Internal Affairs and attested by the seal of the Department, with the date of certification given thereon. The original survey is then placed in an envelope made of bond paper and filed away. The envelope is numbered to correspond with the page and number of the book in which the certified copy is bound for the daily use of the office. There are tens of thousands of original warrants that should also be copied at the earliest possible moment, but this cannot be done until the surveys have been disposed of.

In the last eight or ten years it has been found necessary to prepare an entirely new set of warrant registers. Much additional information has been given on these new registers enabling the search clerks to ascertain more quickly the location of the papers referred to therein.

The preparation of these registers has involved an amount of work that can scarcely be comprehended, but it is believed that the work, as well as the cost, has been more than compensated for by the additional information given with reference to each particular tract of land named therein. The new registers give the number of the warrant, county where the land is located, the name of the warrantee, number of acres applied for, the number of acres returned by the Deputy Surveyor, the date of the patent, the name of the patentee, the place where the patent is recorded and the book in which the survey has been copied. One great advantage in having this information on the warrant register is that it frequently obviates the necessity of referring to the original papers, and thereby lessens the chances of further mutilation of these records, for it is often the case that when one of these old papers is taken out for reference it is mutilated to a still greater extent, or small fragments that have already been detached are lost.

Only those who have to do with the study or tracing of original titles can have the remotest idea of the importance of the work now being carried on in this office in the way of copying the original records, and few, indeed, have any appreciation of the danger that exists of the destruction of these papers by fire. They are not in a fire-proof building, not even in fire-proof receptacles, and it is almost a miracle that they have been so long preserved. It is difficult to get the members of the Legislature to understand how important it is that in the construction of the new Capitol the most perfect fireproof vaults should be prepared for the permanent security of these records.

Occasionally the Department receives requests for certified copies of original surveys that cannot be found. Any lawyer who is accustomed to trying cases in ejectment, wherein it is desired to place on record a chain of title back to the Commonwealth, knows the embarrassment that results from his inability to place before the court and jury the original application, warrant, survey and patent. It is true that such cases do not often occur, as fortunately comparatively few of the original papers are missing, but in order that those on file should be preserved as nearly as possible in their original form, it would be well that the Legislature provide an additional force of draftsmen, in order that the work of copying may be more rapidly advanced.

Liens of the Commonwealth Against Unpatented Lands.

In the Report for 1897 and also in the Report for 1898 extended observations were made with reference to the amount of money due the Commonwealth on unpatented lands. The laws that authorized the entry of the liens and those that empowered the Department to enforce their collection were also published in the reports. This was done for the reason that in many cases the owners of unpatented lands seem to have had no knowledge of the fact that there had been no final settlement with the State for their lands. This ignorance of existing conditions arose from the fact that those having in charge the preparation of briefs of title when purchases of land were made failed to go back to the origin of title to ascertain whether the title had been completed by the granting of the patent by the Commonwealth.

In two or three counties, when an attempt was made to enforce collection under the act of 1897, a considerable amount of hostility was engendered on the ground that the State having neglected so long to enforce its claim against the land should not at this late day insist upon settlement. However, the most forcible argument that could be justly used against the collection of these claims was that while the statute of limitations would run as to a mortgage or judgment between individuals, it does not run against the Commonwealth, and that the Commonwealth could not afford to take advantage in the way of collecting claims in its favor that the individual could not take. The Department, after some investigation and after the collection of about $10,000, became impressed with the idea that a compromise was feasible, and that the excess interest provided for by the act of 1864 and its supplement of 1868, should be abrogated, for the reason that the parties owning these unpatented lands had no voice in the increasing of the rate of interest from two and three per cent. fo six per cent., as provided in the acts referred to. At the last session of the Legislature a bill was prepared so modifying existing laws that the Secretary of Internal Affairs should be allowed to make settlement on the interest basis prevailing before the passage of these acts. This recommendation of the Department was accepted and the bill passed both branches of the Legislature in substantially the form recommended, but it was afterwards recalled and reconsidered, and in new phraseology it was provided that the owner of unpatented land should have a right to secure patent from the Commonwealth upon the payment of a fee of $15, without any reference whatever to the amount due the Commonwealth, whether $15 or $500. This bill became a law by the approval of the Governor, and is submitted herewith.

AN ACT

Relative to the liens of the Commonwealth against unpatented lands; providing for their adjustment, and for the granting of patents.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That in all cases where it shall appear from the records of the Department of Internal Affairs, that there have been applications made or warrants granted by the Commonwealth for lands, the titles to which have not been completed by the granting of patents, and where liens have been entered of record against such unpatented lands for unpaid purchase money, interest and fees, pursuant to the act approved May twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty four, and its supplements, the Secretary of Internal Affairs be and he is hereby authorized to make settlement, as provided in the act of May twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, with the owners of such unpatented lands upon the payment of the patent fees amounting to fifteen dollars; and upon the presentation of applications, with satisfactory proofs of ownership, to grant the patent of the Commonwealth, which shall operate as a release of all claims of the Commonwealth under said liens, the same as if the entire amount of purchase money and interest had been paid.

Section 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 5th day of May, A. D. 1899.

WILLIAM A. STONE.

A computation was made showing the amounts due the Commonwealth on unpatented land prior to the passage of the act of 1899, and it was shown that the amount was upwards of one million dollars. As a result of the passage of this act the owners of unpatented lands may be supremely indifferent as to whether or not their title from the Commonwealth is completed, as no one but the Commonwealth has a right to complain, and it is not likely that it would pursue a claim for $15 to any great extent. Practically, therefore, this whole amount of indebtedness has been wiped out of existence. Occasionally there may be an owner of a tract who desires to have a patent from the Commonwealth in order that his chain of title may be complete, and is willing to pay the $15, but this is chiefly a matter of sentiment.

The act of 1899 does not affect the validity of mortgages due the Commonwealth; nor, indeed, does it affect the amount due thereon. All these mortgages are subject to an annual interest charge of six per cent. and the amounts in some cases are quite large. The act does not apply to lands where patents are granted and in the patent a recital made of the purchase money, interest and fees due the Commonwealth and where a lien was created by the issuance of such patent. The distinction made, if any distinction was intended, by the Legislature, is probably attributable to the fact that when a montgage was given or patent taken subject to a lien the actual amount due was set forth and agreed upon at the time of the execution of the mortgage and the granting of the patent.

There is another class of cases to which the act of 1899 does not apply. In several of the towns in northwestern Pennsylvania there were no warrants granted and no applications made, but there were Commissioners of Sale for town lots that had been laid out by authority of law under the direction of the Surveyor General. The Commissioners offered the lots at public sale and they were bid off by persons who desired them. Many of these lots are still unpatented and small amounts are due thereon to the Commonwealth. The careful reading of the act of 1899 will show that it only applies to cases where applications were made or warrants granted for lands upon which no patents have been granted. This is the view taken by this Department and is also the view entertained by the Attorney General, to whom the question was submitted.

Had all the members of the Legislature been fully advised as to the amount of money involved in this matter, it is doubtful whether the act of 1899 would have been passed in its present form. The discriminating provisions of the act constitute its worst feature. While the State can always afford to be generous with its citizens, it ought not to be guilty of discrimination. It is probable that 95 per cent. of all lands within the limits of the Commonwealth have been paid for, and just why there should be a release of the claims that exist against the other five per cent, is difficult to understand. There seems to have been exhibited in our Legislature of late years a disposition to secure all the appropriations possible out of the State Treasury, without regard to the condition in which it might leave that branch of the State Government. Probably it may be assumed that this forgiving of the indebtedness herein referred to is attributable to the same disposition. It is fair to say, however, that it is certainly as much the duty of the Legislature to protect the State in its financial existence as it is to secure all the favors that can possibly be had for any locality

Boundary Lines and Boundary Line Monuments.

In the report for last year a detailed account was given of the examination of the monuments along the southern boundary line of the State from the southeast corner to the southwest corner. Particular attention was given to the condition of the monuments on this line, which was run in 1763 to 1768 by Mason and Dixon, from whom the line derived its name. The monuments on this line from the southeastern corner of the State for a distance of 230 miles have particular historical interest for the reason that they were made in England and brought to this country and placed in position to mark the limits of Lord Baltimore's possessions and also those given to William Penn. When the work on this line was commenced it was expected that it would be continued to the southwestern corner of the State, but it was stopped in 1769 by the approach of winter and by the hostility displayed by the Indians. It seems from the accounts we have of this enterprise that these noted surveyors were protected by an Indian chief and guide who refused, on account of the hostility of the Indians, to proceed further with the work. The line was subsequently completed to the western boundary of the State.

In the investigations made last year it was found that several of the monuments along this line were missing and others were broken and mutilated. Under existing laws this department is empowered in such cases to co-operate with the proper authorities in the adjoining states for the resurvey of the boundary line and the resetting or replacing of the monuments. Under this law triennial examinations have for some years been made of the line between Pennsylvania and New York in co-operation with the proper authorities of that state. A conference was held during the last session of the legislature with the representatives of the Maryland state government, and it was agreed that a recommendation be made to each of the State legislatures for an appropriation of $5,000 for the resurvey and remarking of the boundary line between the two states. In accordance with this understanding this department requested the general Appropriation Committee of the House of Representatives to place an item in the general appropriation bill to cover this expense. The Legislature of Maryland has failed up to this date to make an appropriation for this purpose, but from correspondence with the Secretary of State it is learned that the measure will be introduced in the session of the Legislature in that State during the year 1900. If this appropriation is made, it is probable that next year the entire Mason and Dixon line will be resurveyed, the monuments repaired so far as possible, and the missing ones, if they can be found, restored to their proper location. The work is an important one, and the duty devolving upon the states to care for the monuments that mark their boundary lines is imperative.

The monuments on the Ohio boundary line need attention also, as the frosts have upheaved and partially dislocated some of them, while others have been somewhat mutilated evidently at the hands of vandals. The monuments that mark the line between New York and Pennsylvania are generally in very good condition. They were examined a few years ago and some of them reset and in one or two cases the old monuments were replaced by new ones.

Under the act of 1889 the Governor was authorized to appoint a commission to act with a similar commission appointed by the State of Delaware to resurvey the Circle of New Castle, that portion of the boundary line that separates Pennsylvania from the State of Delaware. The commission performed the duties devolving upon it and filed its report in this department. Some changes were made in the original lines by which a portion of the territory of Pennsylvania was recommended to be ceded to the State of Delaware, and some of the territory that had formerly belonged to the State of Delaware was to be ceded to the State of Pennsylvania. On account of this proposed change of territory it became necessary to have the report of the commission approved by the Legislatures of the two states. So far as Pennsylvania is concerned the necessary legislation has been passed, and after approval has been given by the legislature of Delaware, in order that the change of territory may be completed, an act by Congress confirming the legislation of the two states will be necessary. It does not appear that any action has been taken by Congress in this matter up to the present time, and it is therefore assumed that the change of territory from one state to the other has not yet been completed.

PART II.

ASSESSMENTS AND TAXES.

ASSESSMENTS.

In most of the counties of the Commonwealth returns in some form or another are made to the county commissioners showing the assessed valuation of real and personal property. The laws of the Commonwealth require the assessors to make these returns at as nearly as possible the actual value of the property. Since the formation of this department under the new Constitution the county commissioners have been required to tabulate these returns and make annual reports of the data for the purpose of taxation. Each year the returns become more complete in classification and detail, as required by the blanks, and they are now substantially perfect and the information they contain, except in a few instances, can be relied upon as trustworthy. Whatever defects may exist as to the returns made of the valuation of real and personal property cannot in any way be charged to this office, as the law is specific as to the duty devolving upon the assessors and commissioners in making these returns, and if there is a failure to show the actual conditions, it is due to the imperfect execution of the law by these officers.

Value of all Real Estate.

Under this heading is included the value of all real estate assessed by local assessors in each district of the Commonwealth. The figures do not include the real estate of public corporations in general, but only so far as they may be possessed of real estate not essential for their use in carrying out the objects for which they were incorporated. For instance, if a water or gas company, whose taxes are paid directly into the State Treasury, has real estate that is not necessary for use (in conducting the corporation business) as a residence for the superintendent or other officers of the company, such property would be assessed and be subject to local taxation. This is not the case, however, with any other real estate the company may own that is necessary to the carrying out of the purposes for which it was chartered. During the year the county commissioners report the value of all real estate at $3,027,649,299. year the amount was $2,981,102,089, showing an increase of $46,-These figures include also real estate exempt from taxation, such as churches, schools, etc. Allegheny county reports $540,490,-185; last year, $532,542,230. Luzerne county, $118,397,647; last year, $116,482,158. Philadelphia, $985,682,064; last year, $961,457,144.

Nearly all of the counties show an increase. Cameron, however, dropped from $1,044,482 last year to $933,243. It will be observed that the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia contribute very largely to the total increase for the year.

Value of Real Estate Exempt from Taxation.

Among the weak points disclosed in the returns of the assessors is the information as to the amount of real estate exempt from taxation. The amount returned during the year was $299,485,963; last year, $295,902,377. The county of Fulton made no return whatever. Philadelphia returned $122,880,394, and Allegheny $67,304,010.

There are many thousands of churches, school houses, municipal properties of all kinds, county homes and State institutions that should be reported under this heading, which would no doubt increase the total amount by many millions of dollars. It appears that in some counties little heed is taken of the requirements of the law to appraise and return this class of real estate, and probably no harm is done by this neglect, as it is difficult to see what public good would be served by the publication of the value of real estate that is not taxable. The acute interest the public has as to the assessed value of real estate is a uniformity of assessment, which can be obtained only by the county commissioners insisting that the assessors shall return real estate at its actual value.

Value of all Real Estate Taxable.

The total amount of taxable real estate in the Commonwealth is returned at $2,728,163,336; last year the amount was $2,685,199,712. Allegheny county shows an increase of about $8,000,000, Philadelphia about $22,000,000 and Huntingdon about $2,000,000. No other counties show any unusual change. Cameron shows a reduction from $842,770 to $794,243.

In considering the assessed valuation of real estate in counties that have heretofore contained a large amount of timbered land, it should be remembered that since the timber has been removed the taxable value of the land is materially decreased. In many localities such land is scarcely worth the annual expense of its care and the taxes paid thereon. When the timber is taken off it is generally shipped to the larger cities of the Commonwealth or to cities outside the Commonwealth for the construction of buildings, which results in the increased value of the real estate in the cities and the consequent decrease in the value of real estate in the rural districts.

Number and Value of Horses, Mares, Geldings and Mules Over the Age of Four Years.

The total number of animals reported under this heading was 618,234; last year 606,066. The value this year $24,099,687; last year, $23,771.539. The increase is fairly distributed throughout the Commonwealth. The same difficulties that prevent a return of the actual value of real estate are encountered in the endeavors to obtain correct returns of the number and value of animals subject to local taxation. In many cases there is an under valuation and a failure to return the actual number. Every assessor in the Commonwealth can bear testimony to the fact of the disposition among owners of live stock to give the value below what they would sell the animals for, and also the disposition to deny the ages, that they may thereby escape the payment of taxes.

Number and Value of Neat Cattle Over the Age of Four Years.

The observations that have been made with reference to the preceding classification of live stock may also be made with reference to the value and number of neat cattle; for the same reason that would induce the owner of horses, etc., to reduce the number or ages would also lead him to reduce the number and ages of his cattle. The number of neat cattle reported for the year was 643,425; last year 615,818. When one considers the wide expanse of territory within the limits of Pennsylvania, the great agricultural interests carried on and the almost limitless dairy industries in operation, there can be little faith given to the figures purporting to exhibit, under the hand and seal of the assessors of the Commonwealth, the number of cattle owned in the State. The value reported for the year is $12,088,841; last year, $11,915,317.

In previous reports figures have been given to show the average value of cattle during a certain term of years. Some marked changes have been observed, but the per capita value, as shown by the reports of this year and last year, has not materially changed. It is unfortunate, in considering these matters, that in the discharge of the public duty comments have to be made upon these returns that lead to a discrediting of the figures, and yet the disposition to escape the burden of taxation is so strong that there can be little doubt as to the under valuation of the property returned as taxable.

Cleared and Timbered Lands.

In previous reports criticisms have been made as to the number of acres of cleared and timbered lands returned by the county commissioners. If there should be any disposition to give credence to the figures returned in the reports of the various commissioners, that disposition would no doubt be destroyed when an addition is made of the number of acres of cleared land and the number of acres of timbered land, which should substantially equal the total acreage of the State, for the addition will show that a large portion is not returned either as cleared or timbered land. For a great many years efforts have been made to get at the actual figures, but the assessors seem unwilling or unable to make correct returns according to the classification prescribed. There is much more excuse, however, for the failure to make correct returns of the lands of the State than there is for the failure to make correct returns of the value of real and personal property, for it is almost impossible to classify the lands as the law requires. For instance, in a county that at one time had a large amount of original forest, the best timber, probably pine and cherry, is removed, and at the time of its removal there may have been no other merchantable timber on it. Such tracts would by some assessors be considered no longer as timber land within the meaning of the law, and yet the land could not be classified as cleared land. Then again, in the development of manufacturing interests and the construction of railways, giving additional facilities for transportation, the hemlock timber may have become of value and it would be removed, leaving perhaps the beech and maple, which until very recently had little value. Additional difficulties have thus been presented to the assessors in classifying the lands, and in many instances they make no return of the lands from which the pine, cherry and hemlock have been taken. Within a few years the beech, maple and birch have become valuable in the manufacture of paper from pulp made from these trees. These woods have also received an additional value from their use in chemical manufactures. Investigation would undoubtedly show that there is no uniformity of action among the assessors as to the classification of the lands. And how far they are returned as cleared or timbered lands, or not returned at all, is a matter of conjecture, but from the fact that the number of acres returned under both classifications falls far short of equaling the territory of the State, it must be assumed that there are many hundreds of thousand of acres not returned at all. If it is thought advisable to continue the making of these returns, the law should be amended, making a new classification, so that there may be shown in the returns of the assessors the number of acres of timbered land, cleared land and other lands. This subject has become much more important, as the State has taken the first step looking towards the development of forest culture and the establishment of forestry reservations, and should be put in possession of knowledge as to the location of lands that are not susceptible of cultivation for agricultural purposes and from which the timber has been taken, so that the Forestry Commission may be able to determine and locate the lands the State should acquire for the purpose indicated by the laws relating to forest culture and the establishment and protection of forest reservations.

Tax Statistics.

Under the provisions of the act of May 9, 1889, the Department is required to collect tax statistics showing the amount of taxes collected locally for the maintenance of State, county, city, ward, borough and township governments. The act requires the Department to prepare blanks upon which detailed statements of the taxes may be tabulated and returned. The assessors in the several districts of the Commonwealth are required by this law to make returns to the county commissioners who consolidate them and file them in this Department. The blanks prepared for this information contain two divisions, the first showing the amount of taxes collected in the county for all purposes and sub-divided as follows:

- 1. For support of the poor.
- 2. For construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges.
- 3. For support of the common schools.
- 4. For other purposes.
- 5. Total amount collected for all purposes.

The second division showing:

- 1. The amount collected on personal property.
- 2. Amount collected on occupations.
- 3. Amount collected on licenses of all kinds, including wholesale and retail liquor licenses.
 - 4. Amount collected on real estate of railway corporations.
- 5. Amount collected on real estate of corporations other than railways, including limited partnerships.

The detailed statements as returned by the county commissioners are found in Part II of this report, immediately following the assessment returns. Following the detailed statements, which give data regarding each district, will be found a consolidated table giving the totals in each county.

Taxes Collected for the Support of the Poor.

In column 1 of the consolidated returns the amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor during the year was $2,603,482.18. The amount last year was $2,465,787.60, showing an increase of $137,694.58. The counties raising upwards of $100,000, were Allegheny $313,297.45, Lackawanna $120,307.23, Luzerne $131,123.11, Philadelphia $500,978.83, Schuylkill $114,394.00. The counties raising less than $10,000 were Cameron, $6,340.17, Forest $7,130.90, Fulton, $2, 377.42, Mifflin $3,484.50, Montour $8,776.43, Perry $8,776.94, Pike $4,859.50, Snyder $9,218.36, Somerset $7,526.54, Sullivan $7,429.67, Wyoming $7,083.86. The greatest increase is shown in the county of Allegheny, where the amount last year was $293,851.43, as compared with $313,297.45 for the present year.

Taxes Collected for Construction and Repairs of Streets, Roads and Bridges.

The counties reporting upwards of $100,000 for this purpose were Allegheny $1,477,750.13, Beaver $150,269.76, Berks, $267,570.27, Blair $139,488.64, Bradford $138,070.00, Bucks $170,252.55, Butler $117,-699.40, Cambria $133,852.38, Chester $205,516.83, Clearfield $120,-624.09, Crawford $109,381.54, Dauphin, $236,884.51, Delaware, $191,-194.00, Fayette, $164,683.45, Lancaster $316,210.90, Luzerne $300,-483.13, Mercer $107,438.90, Mon'tgomery $381,646.17, Northampton $135,968.20, Philadelphia $3,343,783.92, Schuylkill $214,657.69, Tioga $109,705.48, Venango $114,325.39, Washington $207,220.07, Westmoreland $240,207.22, York $218.699.78. The only county reporting less than $10,000 for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges was Fulton, $9,535.02. The total amount collected in the State was $11,312,528.50. Last year the amount was $9,403,660.44. In Allegheny county the amount was $1,477,750.13, as against $1,-420,485.41 last year. In Philadelphia county the amount was $3,-343,783.92, as against $1,529,989.25 last year—a remarkable increase. It is understood, of course, that in the city of Philadelphia taxes are not collected for specific purposes, as in other counties of the Commonwealth. The levy is made under municipal authority and is made sufficient to cover the expense of maintaining the city and county governments, the common schools and the poor of the county, for each of which purposes appropriations are made by the city councils.

Taxes Collected for the Support of the Common Schools.

The returns for the year show the amount collected for the support of the common schools to be $13,612,622.76. It is understood that this amount is entirely independent of the amount appropriated from the State Treasury. If to the amount given above there be added the $5,500,000 appropriated from the State, the total amount will be found to be $19,112,622. The amount appropriated by the Legislature for this commendable purpose is about 44 per cent. of the amount raised in the different counties of the Commonwealth. Last year the amount collected locally was $12,848,923.58. The reduction made in the amount appropriated in the general appropriation act of 1899 for the public schools does not appear in the returns for the year covered by this report, as no payments have yet been made by the State Treasurer under the reduced appropriations. Two counties report a collection of over a million dollars each, Allegheny $1,667,255.34, and Philadelphia $4,214,049.37. Last year Allegheny reported $1,612,931.90 and Philadelphia $3,993,157.64. The increase has been large in both counties. The only county in the State that collects less than $10,000 for this purpose is Fulton. This county reported for the year $8,131.72.

Taxes Collected for Other Purposes Than the Support of the Poor, Construction and Repairs of Streets, Roads and Bridges, and the Support of the Common Schools.

Under this heading are included the taxes collected for the maintaining of the city, borough and township governments. In other words, all taxes or licenses collected are included in this column that are not included in the columns already referred to. The total amount collected during the year was $28,279,951.88. Allegheny county collected $6,748,456.61, Lackawanna $333,542.29, Lancaster $361,927.33, Erie $410,387.07, Philadelphia $13,674,774.21.

Total Amount of Taxes Collected for all Purposes.

The amount collected during the year through local channels of taxation was $55,808,585,32. Last year the amount was $50,315,-870.81, showing an increase of $5,492,714.51. This is the largest percentage of increase for many years. The amount collected in Allegheny county was $10,206,759.53; last year, $9,988,653.62. delphia, $21,733,586.33; last year, $17,080,555.41. It will be seen from these figures that the city of Philadelphia contributed very largely to the increase in the total amount collected or appropriated for the purposes of taxation, and Allegheny county also shows a material increase. The counties in which more than a million dollars were collected are Allegheny $10,206,759.53, Berks $1,014,272.91, Lancaster $1,002,039.73, Luzerne $1,359,276.57, Montgomery $1,017,559.80, Philadelphia $21,733,586.33. The counties that show the greatest increase are those in which the large cities are located. In considering the data given under this consolidation, it should be remembered that the figures include the expense of maintaining the schools, supporting the poor, the construction and repairs of roads and bridges, and the county and other municipal governments of the Commonwealth, as well as the receipts from the granting of licenses, including wholesale and retail liquor licenses.

Taxes Collected on Personal Property.

The act of 1889 requires a special return from the county commissioners, and through them from the assessors, showing the amount of taxes collected on personal property and occupations, the amount collected for licenses, the amount collected on the real estate of railway corporations for local taxation, and on the real estate of corporations other than railways. The total amount collected on personal property during the year was $3,198,971.93; last year, $3,427,385.63, showing a considerable decrease. Under this heading is also included the amount collected from money at interest, on bonds, mortgages, etc. The greatest amount collected is, of course, in the city of Philadelphia, which returned $1,346,288.62. Allegheny returned $387,756.17. The amounts received in some counties were exceedingly small. In Forest the amount was $1,827.55, Greene $1,271.96, Fulton $2,505.92, Huntingdon $2,696.08, Monroe $3,028.04, Pike $3,136.39. Either there is very little money on interest in these counties subject to taxation, or there is something wrong in the returns made.

Taxes Collected on Occupations.

The amount of taxes collected on occupations during the year was $1,331,736.85. Last year the amount was $1,934,982.05, showing a decrease of $603,245.20. No tax of this nature is returned by the counties of Philadelphia and Dauphin, although presumably they make a collection on this account. Allegheny county returned $258,706.78, Lackawanna $95,793.65, Greene $884.96, Fulton $897.27, Clarion $2,265.39, Beaver $4,372.58. These figures indicate that the laws of the Commonwealth that authorize the assessment of occupations and the levying of tax thereon are exceedingly weak in execution.

Taxes Collected on Licenses.

The amount of taxes collected on licenses during the year in Allegheny county was $1,227,359.50; in Philadelphia $2,727,902.31; a total in the two counties of $4,055,261.81. The total amount in the State was $6,067,833.51. It is observed that large amounts in Allegheny and Philadelphia counties are collected from liquor licenses. The other counties in which the collections amounted to more than $100,000 were Berks $141,589.50, Erie $113,226.50, Lackawanna $194,251.50, Luzerne $198,960.00, Schuylkill $209,221.50. The counties in which the smallest amounts were collected are Fulton $854.00, Juniata, $2,620.50, Indiana, $1,200, Potter $3,274. What proportion of the large sum received from licenses is derived from other licenses than liquor licenses cannot be determined by the Department, but it is safe to say that it is small.

Taxes Collected on Real Estate of Railway Corporations.

The railway corporations have paid during the year through the channels of local faxation $728,714.83. No taxes of this kind are returned from the counties of Forest, Fulton, Greene, Potter and Sullivan. Presumably the property upon which taxes are collected from railway corporations is not essential to the management and operation of the roads. All property owned by railway corporations is, under the general law, exempt from local taxation; their taxes being paid directly into the State Treasury on reports made to the Auditor General, at the rate of 5 mills on the assessed valuation of capital stock, 4 mills on loans and 8 mills on gross receipts. It will be seen from this that the amount paid through local channels is an exceedingly small proportion of the total amount paid by these corporations.

Taxes Collected from Corporations Other Than Railways.

The total amount reported for the year under this heading was $2,-828,601.02, of which the county of Allegheny paid $798,652.33, while the county of Philadelphia made no return whatever of this tax. The board of revision of taxes of that city claims that it is impossible to ascertain the amount paid by these corporations. In considering the total amount of this tax, it must be remembered that under the laws of the State manufacturing corporations are exempt from taxation on their capital stock, so far as it is actually invested in the manufacturing business. The capital stock that is not utilized in the manufacturing business is subject to a State tax of five mills on the assessed valuation of the stock. All manufacturing corporations are required to pay a State tax on their bonded indebtedness, and many other corporations not classed as public corporations are subject to local taxation the same as private persons or partnerships. From this statement it will be seen that the total amount of taxes paid by these corporations includes only the taxes paid locally and not those paid on capital stock and bonded indebtedness directly into the State Treasury.

Per Capita Amount of Taxes Collected for All Purposes.

Following the consolidated tables showing the amounts of taxes collected in each county for all purposes will be found another table showing:

- 1. Per capita amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor.
- 2. Per capita amount of taxes collected for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges.
- 3. Per capita amount of taxes collected for the support of the common schools.
- 4. Per capita amount of taxes collected for other purposes, including county and municipal governments.
 - 5. Per capita amount of taxes collected for all purposes.
- 6. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the support of the poor to the total amount collected.

- 7. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the construction and repairs of streets, roads and bridges to the total amount collected.
- 8. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for school purposes, not including any appropriations from the State, to the total amount collected.
- 9. Percentage of amount of taxes collected for the maintenance of township, borough, city and county governments, to the total amount collected.

This table has been prepared with a view of presenting to the reader in the most concise manner the per capita burden of taxation in each county, for each particular purpose. The table is sufficiently explanatory. It is proper to say, however, that in some cases where there is a high per capita tax, as for instance in Elk county, it arises from the fact that there are some corporations or individuals not residents of the county who own large tracts of land, frequently embracing tens of thousands of acres, all of which are subject to local taxation for the maintenance of the county and municipal governments. It will be readily seen that under such circumstances the per capita tax would be larger than in counties where the properties are owned by persons living in the counties.

The occupation tax, which is known in Lancaster as poll tax, aggregates $9,020. The custom for many years has been to assess each married man, not freeholder, 50 cents poll or occupation tax. This tax is levied directly, without putting valuation on the taxpayer's office, trade or occupation, and is not included in the above aggregate of county tax.
